chirp... chirp...
Thank you~
Take care...
TWITCH... TWITCH...
As I didn't have to spend all my time looking after Reszurre now, I was able to return to doing business as usual. I work during the day, and in the meantime, Reszurre rests and slowly replenishes her magic by absorbing mana from the atmosphere.
After I'm done with work, we spend time doing exercises for her limbs. To help accelerate the process, I stimulate her muscles and nerves with electric and vibration magic. Though there is still some pain, I can see the dignified determination in her gaze, which wasn't there before.
Tell me if we need to stop...
It's okay... I can go on...
